KEEPING YOU UPDATED WITH YARD LIFE

Week 5 - Lockdown

A little run down of this weeks events.....

Fifth week of lockdown. Its hard to believe we have been in isolation for this long! Is everyone still sane out there?!? We are truly missing all our ARC family. We are working towards slowly opening up the yard primarily to owners, then to our loyal residents for lessons and eventually treks. Subject to legislation and recommendations, we hope to have a good programme in place ensure everyone gets some time with their favourite ponies whilst safeguarding the team. Last weeks 'guess the nose'????? = Fred! 🥰

WEDNESDAY

Its all about grass time this week! Nom nom nom!

In more detail!

A week in the life of ARC

Friday - A busy day to finish off the week - 17 bridles cleaned, jet washing the last of the sand from the yard and Honeys first day out with the troops.

Saturday & Sunday - Closed for the day - working on ideas to slowly open the yard whilst safeguarding.

Monday - Happy Birthday to Tracy! An emotional reunion with Jet back home after his training weeks with Jodie - He is loving life at ARC.. The afternoon bought inspiration to clean 24 saddles with our cute new family residents - Like a scene from Snow White, we had 5 swallows singing us through our weekly saddle clean!

Tuesday - Rain stopped play am, but we saw the glow of sunshine by lunchtime - quick!!!:- all rugs off for some horsey sunbathing. The Dream team grasped the opportunity and 18 horses exercised, washed and hoof oiled, then bridles & boots cleaned! Aaaaand some shetland fun! Good Day! 🍌

Wednesday - Paddock day for the girls whilst I started to make temporary grass paddocks for our babies - The grass is sooooo long - adorable to see the grateful faces of our horses having grass time together. Some super photo ops. x

Thursday - A visit from the Farrier to manicure some of the ponies. Gitano on the left looking simply fabulous during his grass time!

PONY POWER! 😄

Such Fun! The Shetlands had a well deserved blast through our waterlogged arena Tuesday. Choosing the biggest puddle to splash around in and frequently pausing together for grass on the side lines - yummy apple snacks to finish the afternoon! Xxx
